Towards Safe and Secure Urban Air Mobility

There are several views on how urban air mobility should be organised in an increasingly populated urban landscape and what are the implication for Safety and Security. To address these concerns, important enablers should be considered, involving researchers, infrastructures, industries, regulators, service providers and smart-citizens.

This workshop brings together leading-edge experts, to discuss how to manage such complexity with highest potential for triggering effective collaboration towards Safe and Secure Urban Mobility.
